SUPERVISORS DENY PERMIT FOR IRVINGTON 'WALKATHON'

Decision Tuesday Ends Sharp Controversy In Irvington District

A question that had split Washington township into pro and con camps for more than a week, was ended Tuesday when the Alameda county board of supervisors denied an application to conduct a walkathon at Irvington. The denial was the second one made by the board.

The first application, made last week by Al Star and Peter Tripodes, promoters, was turned down by the board on recommendation of District Attorney Earl Warren, who declared that such an event was in violation of a county ordinance governing dances. The law provides that no dance may be held later than 1 p. m. without special permit, and then only for one night. Warren held that a dance-walkathon, as projected, could not be located in the county.

Undaunted by the first denial, Star and Tripodes circulated a petition in favor of the contest, and obtained 143 signatures. The petition, when presented to the board Tuesday, was offset by objections from numerous township organizations, which considered the walkathon as undesirable.

Organizations which voiced objections by letter were: The Niles Chamber of Commerce, the Niles Junior Chamber, the Washington Union High school board of Trustees, the Decoto school board, the Centerville Presbyterian church and the Newark school board. Numerous individuals sent word of objection to the board.

Previous to the decision on the second petition, the two promoters had been furnishing the hall at Irvington in preparation for the walking contest.

RUNKEL WILL BE ARRAIGNED ON DRUNK COUNT

Arraignment of Chris Runkel, Jr., to have been last Friday at the Centerville court house, was postponed for the second time, and is now scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

Runkel, who was arrested recently on a charge of drunken driving, when he allegedly crashed into a car owned by Leonard Luico, of Centerville, was unable to appear on March 15, date for the original hearing, because of illness.

SITS FOR HARDER

Called to fill the breach during a slight illness suffered by Judge Jacob Harder, of the Hayward justice court, Judge J. A. Silva, of Niles, sat for Harder last Thursday and yesterday. Justices in the south county relieve each other in emergencies, taking the extra tasks in rotation.

Susan Del Grande, ill for several days last week, has returned to her work in the Martinelli grocery.

TAKES $5,800; GETS 2 YEAR "RANCH" TERM

LOVERS OF THE soil, many of them trapped in routine office jobs, may be led to embezzlement in the hope of securing a sentence similar to that meted out to young Roger L. Colt, namesake son of the Alameda county treasurer, last week, when he appeared before Federal Judge Louderback on charges of abstracting $5,800 from savings deposits in a San Francisco bank.

Colt, in addition to a lecture by the judge, was placed on probation for two years, during which time he is sentenced to work on a ranch, near Mendota, in the San Joaquin valley.

GAME SCHEDULE IS ARRANGED FOR NEW LEAGUE

April 14 will be the opening day for the new south county baseball league, officials stated this week, unless some change is made in the approved schedule at a meeting to be held at the Washington Union High school tonight. The schedule was drawn last Thursday night at a gathering of team managers and officials at Newark.

With six teams in the circuit, the schedule of games may be raised to ten contests in each half of the league play, if managers decide that they would like to continue play during the summer. The present schedule, with five games in each half, will end sometime in June. Several managers asked more time to whip their teams into shape, when, it was suggested, that play be started on April 7. J. C. Vargas, manager of the new Decoto team, states his outfit needs more practice to be on a par with other league contestants.

A board of directors, to act only in event of dispute, has been chosen by league officials. Members of the board are: E. D. Bristow, Jess Regil, Ferd Muller, Matt Whitfield and Pat Patterson.

Another meeting, to which all players, managers and interested parties, will be asked, is to be held at the high school on April 4, to hear rules and to become acquainted with the general setup. Schedule as drawn, with play starting on April 14:

April 14—Niles at Alvarado; Decoto at Newark; Pleasanton at Irvington.

April 21—Newark at Niles; Irvington at Decoto; Alvarado at Pleasanton.

April 28—Alvarado at Newark; Niles at Irvington; Pleasanton at Decoto.

May 5—Irvine at Alvarado; Decoto at Niles; Newark at Pleasanton.

May 12—Alvarado at Decoto; Pleasanton at Niles; Newark at Irvington.

In the second half, the above teams will play as in the first half, with the place of the contest switched.

SEASON BEST IN YEARS, OPINION OF GROWERS HERE

Peas Bring Good Price In Local Markets All Last Week

"When the mustard is high and yellow, then the stock is fat and mellow," is an old California proverb that is holding good again this spring with promise of profits to cattlemen and agriculturists.

Drenching rains, starting last Thursday, day of the vernal equinox, have added 1.70 inches of rain, bringing the season's total to 20.28 inches. Rainfall since March 1 here measured 4.47 inches. Augmenting the water release in the Alameda creek, the rain lifted well levels to a high point for the season, at the same time lessening the need for irrigation. Pea growers welcomed the downpour, although afraid of hail. Some growers, ready to pick last week, were unable to get on the ground.

J. C. Vargas, of the Witherly ranch at Mission San Jose, stated that the pea crop in that section was good, and that no damage had been done by the frost, while Antonio Garcia, familiar with conditions in the lower fields said that blossoming in the "frost belt" had been arrested, with resultant lessening of the yield. He said that the crop will be shorter than estimated.

Growers in the section who picked their first peas last week have been receiving from 6 to 8 cents per pound as contrasted with 3 and 4 cents at this time.

COUNTRY CLUB MEET POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY, APRIL 8

Because of the convention of the Federated Clubs, to be held at Lodi next week, the regular meeting of the Country Club of Washington Township has been postponed until Monday, April 8. Time for the local gathering will also permit completion of the new club house stage, so that it may be used on that day.

A program of interest has been planned by the program and music committees. Twenty-five members will present in song, skit and pantomime, the fashions worn by women from the colonial period to the present day.

Mary Todd Lincoln, "The Florida Girls, the Merry Widow, the first feminine bicyclist and her escort, on a tandem bicycle, will all be shown, together with eight other numbers.

Members are asked to wear old fashion dress, according to committee members this week. Members may bring a guest.

On the evening of April 11, a spring fashion show will be given at the club house for the benefit of the stage fund.

Sunol Man Hurt In Broadway Tunnel Slide

Of the three men injured in a rock slide in the Broadway low-level tunnel last week, one, John Bergland, 46, is a resident of Sunol. Bergland, a shift boss, is reported suffering from head injuries and a fractured arm.

Others hurt were Henry Raiski, of Berkeley, and Arthur Titus, of Oakland. The trio were completing a "drive" into the shaft, when rocks, dislodged from the ceiling, rained down. The injured men were taken to the Providence hospital, in Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Marino Iacopi and small son spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Garcia.

THOUSANDS THROG NURSERY GROUNDS FOR TULIP SHOW

Thousands of garden enthusiasts, attracted by the largest outdoor flower display on the Pacific coast, have made the California Nursery Company grounds at Niles their interest center during the huge daffodil and tulip show being held in the nursery display gardens.

The largest and most complete display of its kind, the show presents over two hundred and fifty separate varieties, including all of the better known standard sorts, and numerous new varieties being shown for the first time in the west. In addition to tulips and daffodils, Dutch iris, Cape bulbs and hyacinths are also in bloom, the plantings being arranged against typical garden backgrounds of flowering trees and shrubs.

The daffodil and tulip beds, situated immediately to the right of the main drive, present a profusion of blooms. The daffodils, 15,000 bulbs, are on the wane, while the 20,000 tulips are just coming into full blossom.

The display is open to the public. Tea is served on Sundays at the Old Adobe, historical building situated in the beautifully landscaped garden.

VARGAS FINED $25 FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

J. A. Vargas, of Mission San Jose, was fined $25 last Friday afternoon, when he appeared before Judge Allen G. Norris, at Centerville, on a charge of drunken driving.

Vargas had been arrested near Centerville, when his machine crashed into one driven by E. L. Burch, of Newark. He had changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.

Decoto Junior Chamber Opposes Use of Bridge

Twelve new members signed the roster of the new Decoto Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, when that group met for the third time. Meeting was held at the Decoto fire house.

The civic group went on record as opposed to continued use of the allegedly dangerous Bell ranch bridge by school buses.

Chick Santos, township fair manager, was a guest, and told the assemblage of the forthcoming queen contest. The Decoto group will sponsor Decoto queen candidates.

Refreshments were served.

First Street Hedge Shows Husky Growth

Sprouting up in a long, green line, the First street hedge, planted by the Niles Chamber of Commerce, is beginning to show decorative qualities.

Planted thickly, to insure an even hedge when times comes for thinning, the privet plants have all taken root, each putting out sturdy leaves. Weeds were cleared away this week and the soil broken.

When mature, the hedge will shut from view the unattractive freight yards, situated, as it were, in Niles' front yard. W. B. Kirk had charge of the project. Frank Nunes, who saw to the preparation of the soil and the planting, stated that recent rains had hastened the growth of the small plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newman visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thane and Mrs. J. R. Whipple Sunday afternoon.

FUND DRIVE FOR SCOUTS BEGINS SOON

Budget Is Accepted By Committee at Meet Last Thursday

LOWER THIS YEAR

District Activities Planned For Local Boys This Spring

With public interest mounting in scouts and scout activities in Washington township since the recent reorganization of south county units, officials in the various towns will soon launch the annual drive for funds with which to carry on the work here.

Meeting at the Centerville court house last Thursday night, members of the district scout committee voted to accept the 1935 budget, drawn for this district. Greatly decreased with the release of the regular field executive, the budget this year totals only $452 for the entire township. This sum, distributed among the various towns on a basis of scouts registered at the first of the year, is to be paid in twelve monthly installments to the division treasury. Of the $452, each town will raise the following sums:

Niles, $118; Centerville, $131; Irvington, $104; Newark, $54 and Decoto, $45.

Should the total be oversubscribed in any of the towns, the balance will be set aside for payment on the 1936 budget, or used for local troop purposes.

With discussion led by Allen G. Norris, district committee chairman, it was decided that each troop committee will see to raising funds allotted to the town in which the committee operates. The money, as raised, will be sent in to Dr. G. S. Holman, district treasurer, who will in turn make payment to the division headquarters.

In relation to the scouts themselves, Albert Lewis, district commissioner, suggested that the district have a central court of honor, to meet once a month, for presentation of awards and merit badges. Lewis' plan, supported by George Colt, chairman

Appraisal of Mrs. Sloan's Ranch Ordered Tuesday

Represented by Alfred Aran, San Jose attorney, Mrs. W. A. Sloan was granted the opportunity to have her ranch appraised and a report made on its value, for the purpose of asking a government loan. The order for the appraisal was given Tuesday by Burton J. Wyman, referee in bankruptcy. Date set is April 10.

Mrs. Sloan, attempting to save her ranch near Irvington from foreclosure by E. H. Hirsch, scored a victory last week when the Frazier-Lemke amendment to the National Bankruptcy act was declared constitutional by Wyman. Hirsch had filed a bill of objections, asking to have the amendment set aside.

Allen Shinn Attached to Rear Admiral's Staff

Allen M. Shinn, ensign, formerly of the U. S. S. Tennessee, has been transferred to the official staff of Rear Admiral Murphy, commander of battleship division No. 3. Shinn's new ship will be the U. S. S. New Mexico, flagship of the division.

Shinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shinn, Sr., of Niles, has been with the fleet for several years.

WORK ON JUNIOR HILL SIGN ON IN EARNEST

Work on the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce huge hill sign, delayed by the rainy weather, was taken up in earnest again this week.

Equipped through the courtesy of local people, the junior group workmen swarmed up Walpert Hill Monday, intent on finishing the project before many days of April elapse.

Faced with the difficulty of dragging the materials to the sign site, the workers were assisted this week by E. E. Dias, local contractor, who furnished a gasoline winch. The winch has been located at the base of the hill and a cable slung between it and the location of the sign. Materials are being dragged up the hill on a large sled.

Guido Tuana, chairman of the work, declares that with labor furnished by members of the civic group, the cost of the project will be very low.

Mrs. M. Perry, of Niles, is allowing the workers to use her truck, for hauling material to the point where it can be loaded on the "skyline."

Frank Rose, Niles businessman, assisted the group with the loan of necessary pulleys and cable. John Galvin showed an interest, with promise to assist if he could do so.

ONLY FIVE MORE DAYS

April 1 is the last day upon which 1934 license plates may be displayed on any vehicle in California, according to the department of motor vehicles. Highway patrol officers will be instructed to stop all cars not having their new plates. Drivers who have not ordered their new plates will be given citations and an order to impound their cars.

MENDONCA, SOUZA GET SAN QUENTIN TERMS LAST WEEK

Found Guilty Wednesday On Motor Theft Count; Had Record Here

Convicted of grand theft in connection with the stealing of a valuable electric motor, Frank Mendonca and Tony Souza, both of Niles, were sentenced to terms in San Quentin prison last Wednesday when they appeared before Superior Judge William F. James at San Jose.

The pair, who have police records in Alameda county, were arrested on January 21, when they attempted to sell a motor to a San Jose second hand dealer. They were accused of stealing the electrical device from the O'Brien ranch, near Mayne station.

Represented by Attorney Martin Murphy, the pair denied their guilt. The length of the terms is indeterminate, according to word from the Santa Clara county sheriff's office.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS TOMORROW IN TOWNSHIP

Voters throughout the several school districts in Washington township will go to the polls tomorrow to cast their ballots in the annual school board elections. The polls will be open from 12 noon until 6 o'clock in the evening.

Contests slated are at Irvington, where Joe Corey has filed against the incumbent (Manuel Joseph, and at Alvarado, where the incumbent, A. E. Vargas, has withdrawn, leaving Frank Machado and Mrs. Mae Santos to contest for the place.

HOLY GHOST DATE SET TUESDAY BY S.E.S. LODGE

Officers for the first Niles

Holy Ghost fiesta, to be sponsored this summer by the S. E. S. lodge, were named at a special meeting held in Niles Tuesday night. Those elected were: Henry Rego, president; Jerry Robello, vice president; John Ray, secretary; M. Oliver, treasurer, and Tony Fields, marshal.

Date for the huge affair was set for August 3 and 4. A queen contest, for the selection of a girl to rule the fete, will be started soon, Rego said.

Funds for the affair will be derived from the proceeds of a dance to be given soon after the close of Lent.

ATTENDS PERKINS FETE
Mrs. Norman H. Parks attended a breakfast given in honor of Miss Francis Perkins, secretary of labor, at the St. Francis hotel, in San Francisco, last Sunday at 12:30 o'clock p. m. Miss Perkins spoke to the assemblage on vital questions pertaining to her office that are vividly before the public today. It was an invitational affair, and more than 1000 prominent Northern California people attended.

The Shoe Didn't Fit

By JANNIS PARKER
McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Service.

"It was a pity, friends said, that so delightful a person as Doris should be married to A. Lindsey Mund, the most notorious producer in the show business. And yet Doris went around squandering her loveliness on an ugly little man whose only concern in life was that there might be a shortage of women."

All her friends wished she'd realize what life could hold by changing her name to Mrs. Dick Manning. And Dick, who dogged her footsteps, wished it most.

"Doris," he said one afternoon on the tiled terrace encircling the Mund penthouse, "you're going to Paris this summer, aren't you?"

She nodded assent.

"Come back single," he pleaded. "On what grounds?" she smiled. "Can't accuse him of non-support," she contended.

"Can't get it on incompatibility," she went on. "We don't see enough of each other to know whether we're incompatible or not."

"And I couldn't get it for cruelty. He never puts a hand on me."

"How about infidelity?" interrupted Dick. "Or does he come home early every night like a fond little husband and toast his toes before the hearth?"

Doris smiled again. "You could hardly expect a man up to his eyes in rehearsals to come home early every night," she pointed out.

Did she think Lindsey impeccable, or did the Puritan strain in her rebel at divorce? But because he knew that should he touch her to shake her, he'd change his original intention and take her in his arms instead, he sat stiffly silent beating his clenched hands together softly.

The minutes passed. "Doris," said Dick finally. "Loyalty to the man whose name you bear and whose name I can't bear because it's attached to you, is all very pretty, but I want you to snap out of this forgotten-woman role and let me prove that as far as I'm concerned all other women are forgotten."

"Dick, you're sweet." Her fingers lightly touched his sleeve. "Sweet nothing, I'm bitter! Oh, Doris, don't you think you could love me a little if you tried?"

Her gray-green eyes clung to his. "Tell me. . . If whenever a man's name is mentioned you quiver all over; if whenever you hear his voice it's as if something lifted you up and held you there; if whenever he looks at you your eyes drop lest he read your answering message. . . Tell me, is that love, Dick? Because if it is, I don't think I could stop loving you if I tried."

"Doris!"

But before he could reach out to her she had risen and walked quietly to the edge of the terrace where she spoke dully as she watched the flaming streamers of the sunset wrinkle into the darkening canopy of night.

"I happen to be married. I took him for better, for worse."

"If you're so punctilious why let him forget? . . . and keep yourself from all others, until her alone?" Dick wanted to know. "But doubtless Lindsey was too busy eyeing the bridesmaids to hear the stipulation. You're just a silly martyr, Doris, that Lindsey uses for a safety-valve. As long as he's neatly married none of his soft-soiled sirens can put up a howl!"

"You're a little harsh on him, Dick. A man in his profession has to be on the lookout constantly for new talent."

"Um, Doris, when are you going to see him as he is?"

"When the shoe fits," she answered.

And so Doris spent the summer in Paris without resorting to its law courts. Just before she returned Lindsey gave up the penthouse for a much smaller place in the same building. No one was going to the theater any more, he said. Actually the amount saved was feathering another nest, but of course that would have to be proved to Doris, Dick sighed.

It was proved the night after her return. Doris, Lindsey and Dick were in the living room of the new small apartment having their after-dinner coffee when the doorbell rang and a freckled lad of about twelve handed Doris a pair of strange, tiny slippers. They were spike-heeled, snub-toed, and flaunted perky bows.

"We've moved into your penthouse," grinned the youngster, "and my mother sent me down with these shoes you forgot. She found them in the bedroom closet."

Dick thanked the lad and hastily bundled him off. Doris found herself holding a pair of slippers that could not have been hers by three sizes.

At the corner rummage sale the little old woman in charge looked distressed.

"Didn't fit at all!" Dick boomed jovially, his arm flung across the shoulders of a freckled youth whose eyes danced because of Dick's generous bail.

Haircut
By ELSIE F. WILSON

CLARIBEL BRUNKE'S chauffeur eased to the curb in front of the most famous of Fifth Avenue's beauty temples. Claribel's gracious entrance into the salon was greeted by a careful bow from the wax-mustached manager himself.

"Ah, Mademoiselle Brunke—good afternoon. We shall be pleased—" "I'd like to have you personally do my hair, Seixas," she smiled. "It's rather important today."

"But yes, Mademoiselle." "I'm going to put myself in your hands, Seixas," she said. "I want a haircut entirely different from anything I've ever had. Something suited to my type and personality. You know what I mean?"

"But yes, Mademoiselle." Seixas draped a snowy sheet around Claribel's shoulders.

"For you, Mademoiselle, the smooth close cut is the best. Then to bring out the natural pliancy of your face, a fluffy bang across the forehead—yes?"

"I leave it to you, Seixas," she smiled. "Only make me as beautiful as you can."

Claribel hoped that tonight Rick Hollimore would ask her to marry him. She had known Rick for a year. Lately she had fancied that there had been something new in his eyes; something more personal when he looked at her.

"There, Mademoiselle!" "Perfectly, Seixas," she sighed. "You couldn't have done better."

"Now a shampoo and wave, Mademoiselle?" "Please."

Seixas proudly combed out the finished coiffure. It was a masterpiece. But then Seixas was patronized because he produced masterpieces.

"It is lovely, Seixas. And it is important that I be particularly nice tonight."

Claribel sat opposite Rick Hollimore in the dim dining room of the Cafe Brun. She was faintly disappointed. Rick, who invariably noticed the details of her costume, had not yet commented on her changed headpiece. She sipped her cocktail and tried to recapture the intimacy of the past few meetings.

"You're quiet tonight, Rick," she said. "Tired?"

"A little," admitted Hollimore. "This business of casting for a new play gets me every time. I think I have my finger on a type I want and then—pouff! She drops her aitches or bites her finger nails!"

"Poor boy." But Hollimore did not react to her sympathy. Claribel felt chilled. At the moment she knew that she meant no more to Rick than the centerpiece of crystal tulips. If he didn't soon see her as an individual Claribel knew that she would always be just so much atmosphere in his life. He was becoming too accustomed to her beauty.

Suddenly his eyes lit up. She followed his glance.

"Do you see her?" he exclaimed tensely. "The girl with the hair, red and crisp looking. I want her for the beggar girl in Scarlet Slippers. Can't you just picture her?"

Hollimore's voice was eager. "She probably stutters," said Claribel.

"But her hair! It's a masterpiece of art and imagination. I wonder who her hairdresser is? He certainly knows his stuff. Funny, the difference a haircut makes to a woman, isn't it?"

"Yes, isn't it?" echoed Claribel bleakly.

Effie's reflection in the mirror above the kitchen sink gave back her vivid smile. Her crisp red-gold curls were almost completely obscured by the inverted pewter bowl.

"Don't cut off too much, Mom," she warned. "Just enough to smarten the edges."

"Haven't I cut your hair enough times to know how to do it?" returned Mom Bailey brandishing her shears above the bowl. "Keep still and don't fidget."

Clip, clip, clip. The burnished ringlets dropped around Effie's shoulders. Snip, snip—

"A man in the restaurant offered me a part in a play last night," said Effie. "He said he liked my haircut." She laughed.

"You mean you're goin' on the stage?" asked Mom.

"No," said Effie. "I'm going to marry Tommy. He asked me last night."

Effie's hair released from the confining bowl, crinkled and glittered as if each hair were individually endowed with vivid life.

"Gee, Mom," Effie leaned on the kitchen sink and admired her radiant mop. "Gee, Mom, that's swell."

She turned to her mother. "The man in the restaurant said my hair was a masterpiece of art and sophistication. Tommy says it looks like a sunburned dandelion. You should've seen the dame with the man who offered me the job. Marcelled and sleeked and shellacked until she was afraid to move her neck for fear she'd throw a hair out of place. Swell looking, too, except for a scared look in her eyes. I guess she was afraid of spilling that classy headpiece."

"Funny, isn't it, the difference a haircut makes to a girl?"

Color Variety in Poultry
The prospective poultry breeder, in casting about for a breed or variety with which to specialize, is favored with a wide diversity of types and colors. The original color pigments in the plumage of fowls was red and black, according to authorities, but the possible number of color variations is practically unlimited. Not only are there different colors such as brown, buff, blue, red and black, but various combinations of these. The colors noted are due to the presence of pigment or coloring matter in the shaft of the feather. The absence of any color pigments produced a white feather. —Los Angeles Times.

FARM POULTRY
CHICKS NEED ROOM,
GOOD, CLEAN FEED

Simple Flat Trough Provides Ample Space.

By Cora E. Cook, Extension Poultry Specialist, University Farm, St. Paul.—WNU Service.

Every one will agree that a good ration is essential to raising good chicks, but not every one recognizes the important part feeders play in raising these good chicks efficiently and economically.

Enough feeder space should be provided so that all chicks can eat at one time. Lack of space causes slow and uneven growth and, frequently, troubles with cannibalism, for an idle chick gets into mischief.

A four-foot feeder, feeding from both sides, will take care of 100 chicks up to about three weeks. Then more space must be provided. It takes two feeders for 100 chicks during most of the growing period.

Feeders that get filled with litter and filth discourage eating. Set feeders up on stands and clean out any litter that does accumulate.

Feeders that are too expensive discourage providing as many as are needed. A simple flat trough made of lath, a four-inch board and a revolving reel lengthwise of the feeder to keep chicks out of the feed, are easy to make and entirely satisfactory.

As chicks grow the feeders can be raised higher from the floor and thus use floor space to better advantage.

Floors can be kept much cleaner and chicks protected against disease if feeders are placed on shallow platforms, covered with three-quarter-inch mesh hardware cloth. These should be just big enough for the feeder and to collect the droppings and waste feed and water.

Pullets Are Healthier;
Tuberculosis Eliminated

"Twenty-five years ago avian tuberculosis was probably just as prevalent in the East as in the Middle West. Now the East is comparatively free from this type, undoubtedly due to the general practice of keeping pullets only," says H. R. Smith, live stock commissioner, Chicago. "Where importance is given to poultry raising as a major industry in egg production is essential. Pullets produce more eggs than older hens. If Middle Western flock owners would follow the Eastern practice in farm flocks, tuberculosis could be eliminated."

Avian tuberculosis, in addition to causing heavy losses to the poultry industry, causes heavy mortality in swine. Since bovine tuberculosis is being brought under control, a higher percentage of infected hogs are found to carry the avian type of disease.

Vigor Should Come First
In all animal husbandry, vigor must come first—must be considered before color, relationship, type, or anything else; for if vigor in the breeder is not present one is headed for disaster. This mysterious element, cites a writer in the Missouri Farmer, which is something akin to the "it" in movie stars, can only be detected by sight, can only be gauged by the judgment of the breeder. It is gauged by the brightness of eye and the alertness of the bird or animal. Heavy layers have it, else they would not be so prolific. A famous breeder of chickens once said that he was not afraid of lack of vigor in the 300-egg hen and would not hesitate to inbreed such a producer.

Treasury Keeps Track of Rich Who May Die.

London.—The chancellor of the exchequer, Neville Chamberlain, has marked some of Britain's millionaires for the "spot"—and the budget surplus for next year will depend to a large extent on how many are "rubbed out."

To balance Mr. Chamberlain's tidy books properly, an expert statistician is working overtime at the treasury figuring out just how many of the country's more opulent citizens probably will succumb to the "grim reaper."

From this actuary's macabre figures the chancellor estimates the amount of income from death duties for the year.

This is no small item in the British budget as the duties run from 40 to 60 per cent on estates in the higher brackets; England doesn't allow rich men to pass on much of their wealth. For example, in the fiscal year 1933-'34, death duties amounted to $428,350,000.

An Extra "Windfall."
The estimate for this year was only $373,750,000, but a few of what are fondly known in treasury circles as "windfalls" provided the cash box with an extra $42,600,000.

If the outlook is favorable he can stop the clamoring of those gentlemen from the royal air force, who declare in no uncertain terms that they have to have more planes "or else."

On the other hand, if so disposed, the chancellor can pay a war debt installment to a friendly power.

Therefore, the hard working statistician was hired a few months ago to work out the expectation of life of known millionaires, on the line adopted by life insurance companies.

Figures on Deaths.
To bear this out, the Income Tax Payers' society, which ought to know, says:

"In the treasury department's secret archives are figures which will enable actuaries to tell the chancellor how many millionaires are liable to die in any particular year."

Mr. Chamberlain planned on receiving $380,000,000 from the death duties. But apparently he has underestimated things a little, for about a dozen millionaires died in the year just closed, and revenue returns from the first quarter showed an increase of $27,000,000 over 1933.

Because of these heavy death duties, most wealthy men who have their fortunes tied up in specific industries, carry death and duty insurance to take care of payment of taxes and obviate necessity of the family selling the business in order to settle with the government. Premiums on these policies often exceed the net income from an estate, thus the man with a fortune coming in every year might be losing money. But only by losing on his "income" is he able to protect his principal.

Coast Convicts Prefer
Books on Penal Code

Sacramento, Calif. — California penal and political codes head the list of "best sellers" in Folsom prison, one of the nation's "toughest" penitentiaries.

These books, along with the works of Blackstone, top the list of requests from prison inmates, according to State Librarian Mabel Gillis. The convicts pore over the volumes in an effort to find loopholes in the law which may win freedom for them.

Results of this avid study occasionally send staid jurists into a huddle when habeas corpus petitions containing queer points of law are presented.

Tables
From the tables which were made to eat off of, furniture makers swung to special purpose pieces and those for double duty, such as the gate-leg and the various types of drop-leaves and tilt-tops, increasing the number of styles as the culture of the people advanced.

SPEND BILLION IN 1935 FOR RECOVERY

Great Corporations Plan Extensive Improvements.

New York.—The nation's great corporations will spend a billion dollars next year in long-delayed capital improvements to speed recovery, Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett announced.

Steel, automobile, oil and communication industries are leading the way, Moffett said. The heavy spending is to be done in connection with the government's housing program.

The administrator asserted the United States Steel corporation would devote $400,000,000 to replacements and modernization, treble the amount expended in 1934.

The automobile industry, inclusive of Henry Ford, he added, would spend $50,000,000 and Mr. Ford himself $20,000,000.

Moffett announced that American Telephone and Telegraph had decided to appropriate $200,000,000 in repairs and betterments and the Standard Oil company of New Jersey had set aside between $67,000,000 and $73,000,000.

In an address before an advertising club luncheon here, he said that the Federal Housing administration already had created $145,000,000 in new business and that the home construction project would give industry $20,000,000,000 more.

Great as is the modernization program, the new construction program provided in the housing administration act is even greater, Moffett said, declaring that 5,000,000 new homes are needed. He continued:

"Five million homes, with the average cost of each home as low as $4,000, gives us a total of $20,000,000,000 in new homes as soon as we can get to the job of building them."

"No such market has ever before in all history been offered to industry. And it is your privilege and your opportunity to help industry get the maximum from it."

New York Opens Drive
on False Metal Marking

New York.—A vigorous campaign is under way to protect the public from those who falsely mark gold and platinum jewelry.

The familiar stamps, "14-Karat" and "Platinum," are being used on impure metals so that purchasers who accept these quality marks at their face value are tricked into buying inferior substitutes.

Six such cases are being prosecuted here by the district attorney and the department of markets, weights and measures, with the active co-operation of the Jewelers' Vigilance committee and the Associate Jewelers' association.

Lake Erie Is Prolific
Source of Peat Moss

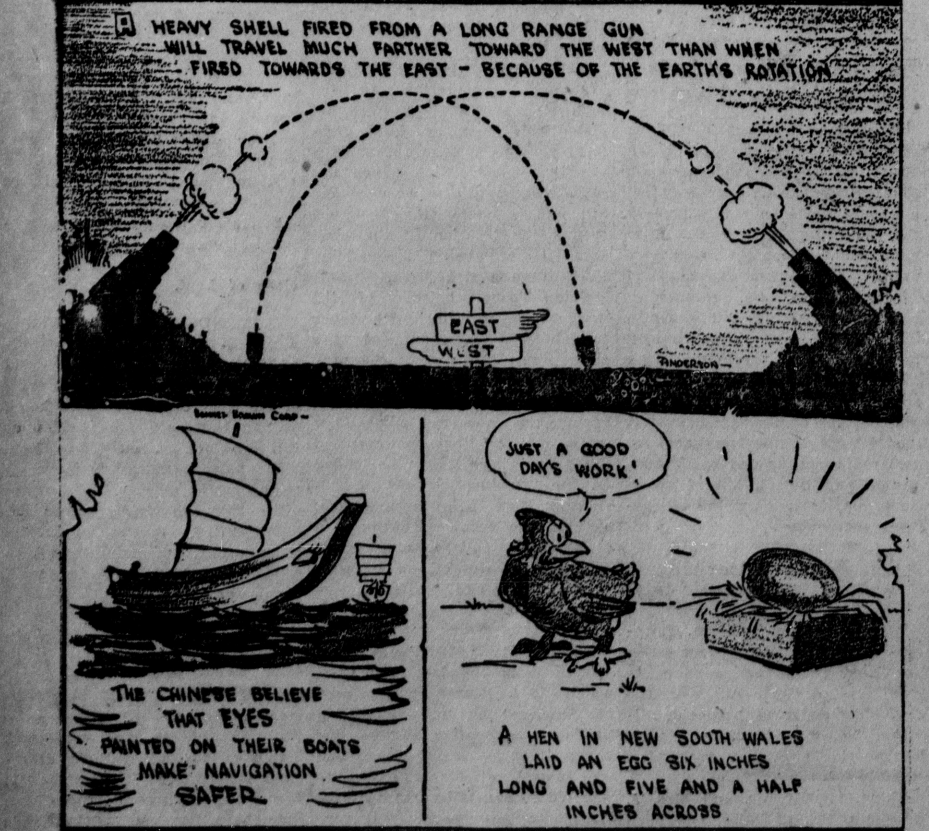

Sandusky, Ohio.—What has been identified as "peat moss" has been coming from Lake Erie recently in large quantities. Its source is a mystery. Never until this year has there been more than a little of it. Now tons are available.

The moss, when bleached and treated, may be used in beautifying rock gardens. It commands high prices.

Blind Student Excels
Reno, Nev.—Despite blindness, Joe Hargreaves, seventeen years of age, is an honor student of the sophomore class at the Reno high school.

Early Life Insurance
Life insurance was introduced into England by the establishment of the Amicable society in 1696. It was introduced from Great Britain to America in Philadelphia, 1759, for the relief of Presbyterian ministers and their widows and children. This was followed by a similar corporation for the benefit of Episcopal clergymen and their widows. The first company to attempt a general business was the Insurance company of North America, organized in Philadelphia in 1768.

Constipated?

The doctors say... Use liquid treatment

Here is the soundest advice anyone can give on the subject of laxatives. It is based on medical opinion. We want you to have the benefit of this information no matter what laxative you may buy:

The secret of real relief from constipation is reduced dosage. You can't regulate the bowels unless you can regulate the help you give them. That is why doctors use a liquid laxative; the dose can be measured to a drop.

Avoid laxatives that you can't cut down in dosage; especially those that seem to require larger doses than when you began their use.

Under the doctor's care, you usually get a liquid laxative. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. Smaller and smaller doses—until you don't need any.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—natural laxatives that form no habit.

"WALKATHON" BAN URGED BY NILES CHAMBER MONDAY

Formal Protest Made To Board of Supervisors Against Project

Positive action against the location of a dance marathon or walkathon anywhere in the unincorporated area of Alameda county was taken Monday by the Niles Chamber of Commerce, after hearing a letter from Mrs. Carrie M. Scammon, of the Irvington Citizens' League protesting location of such an entertainment in Irvington.

Principal A. J. Rathbone, of the Washington Union High school, urged the civic group to act against the project, in a plea for the young people of the township. He declared that every parent, and all interested in the welfare of children here, should voice their protest at once. Following a motion by E. A. Ellsworth, the chamber voted to send a formal protest against location of the walkathon to the board of supervisors.

Letters from James Cassidy and William Knowland, Alameda county representatives in the state legislature, were read concerning the proposal to incorporate the county roads into the state system.

E. A. Ellsworth, reporting on the water question, stated that a satisfactory arrangement has been made, and that no part of the regular release will be piped across the fault. He said that in addition to the regular release, 25 per cent of the extra water will be released east of the fault line. Of the water available, Ellsworth said that preparations are being made to run a portion down the canyon from Sunol, rather than release it all at Clark's canyon.

H. L. Scott, reporting on the baseball team, told that Niles' long string of victories had been cut Sunday by the Mission San Jose team, which defeated the local nine by a score of 3 to 2 on the Niles diamond. Scott told of a meeting of league officials held at Newark last Thursday night, and said that the schedule of games and period of play will be approved by managers of the teams soon. Scott told of community gratitude to the trustees of the Niles Grammar school for allowing Sunday games to be played on the school diamond. Joseph D. Comes, board member, was at the meeting.

Guests at the meeting were Gordon B. Liang, agricultural commissioner, C. F. Corrigan, of the Southern Pacific Company, and Dr. E. E. Matthis.

BANK AMERICA INDEX SHOWS BUSINESS RISE

Bank of America's index of far western business during February reached the highest point since July of 1934, and with the exception of that one month, the highest level since February of 1932.

The index is based on weighed and seasonally adjusted carloadings, bank debits and electric power production. Reports of other business activities covered in the Bank of America bear out the showing of the index.

The index of the general level of California farm prices last month, at 91 per cent of the 1910-1915 average, was highest since June, 1934, and gained 6 percent over the preceding month.

Mission Trail Marker To Be Subject at Meet

GEORGE W. BOND DIES AT HAYWARD LATE LAST WEEK

Had Moved From Home In Centerville Only Few Months Ago

George W. Bond, 64, a native of Washington township and connected with a family important in the history of the district died at his Hayward home last Thursday after a short illness. A resident of Centerville for many years, Bond recently disposed of his properties on Central avenue and moved to Hayward, where the fatal illness took him. He was a native of Alvarado.

Funeral services were held from the Chapel of Palms Saturday, under the auspices of the Washington parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, in which Bond was active. Interment was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at Irvington. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josephine Bond, and three daughters—Miss Ruth Booth, Mrs. Jennie Hansen and Mrs. Edna Rix.

The name Bond has been important in Centerville for decades, beginning in the last century when Capt. G. W. Bond was first postmaster, and the first justice of the peace in Washington township. Father of the deceased, Charles W. Bond, ran a general merchandise store in Centerville for many years.

HUSKERS WILL MEET ST. IGNATIUS HIGH HERE TUESDAY

The Washington High Huskers, strong prep ball team, will face tough competition next Tuesday when they meet the St. Ignatius nine, San Francisco champions, on the local diamond. The Huskers will meet Emeryville here Friday, in the fourth league contest.

A game with the Albany team, after three muddy innings at the Niles Grammar school grounds Friday, was postponed until May 3. A track meet with Livermore was postponed from last Thursday to April 11.

On March 5 the Huskers suffered a 5 to 0 defeat at the hands of McClymonds high, at Bay View Park, Oakland. It was not a league game. On Tuesday, the local team took it out on Livermore in a game there, with a 14 to 5 victory.

Firemen Attend Meet Of Contra Costa Group

Frank Madruga, president of the Alameda County Firemen's Association, led a delegation of local firemen to a meeting at Concord Tuesday night, when the members of his organization were guests of the Contra Costa County Firemen's Association.

Accompanying Madruga were: Assistant Chief Fred Rogers, Clarence George and Herman Bettencourt, of the Centerville department, and Clarence Crane, assistant chief of the Niles department.

RULES FOR QUEEN CONTEST DRAWN BY LIONS

Rules and regulations governing the great queen contest, to select the fair ruler of the 1935 Washington Township Fair, were drawn up and approved by the Lions Club, fair sponsors, last week.

Intent on giving each community in the district a fair chance to place their choice on the throne, the Lions will select an active organization in each of the eight towns to sponsor girls.

Following the announcement of the organizations selected next week, girls interested in the queenship may hand in their names to such sponsoring bodies, and be duly registered. Registration will be closed on April 13, and the contest will get under way on April 14. The contesting girls must be 16 years of age, or more, the Lions stipulated.

On April 14, all contestants will be supplied with the necessary tickets, and the race will get under way.

The girls will sell tickets to the great opening dance to be held on June 22. The best salesman, as shown in the results, will be chosen queen at midnight on June 22, and the highest girl in each of the seven remaining towns will be chosen as her maids.

The queen, to be outfitted in costly garb, and presented with a valuable diamond ring, and the maids, also to be honored, will be taken on trips to all points in the bay region to pose for photographs and to assist in spreading word of the fair.

Each sponsoring group, in the several towns will be supplied with a set of the rules, so that contestants may study them.

FARM CENTER MEETS TUESDAY NIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Eden-Washington Farm Center met at the Washington Union High school Tuesday night to hear talks centering on general market situation for vegetable crops.

Main speaker for the evening was Oscar Shattuck, rural representative of the Federal Housing Administration. Shattuck was asked to speak by Paul Daugherty, agricultural instructor at the Centerville high school and secretary of the farm center.

There was a discussion of the federal housing act, and how it makes possible loans to farmers under liberal arrangements. Shattuck explained how loans may be secured and for what they may be expended.

DAIRY BUILDING

F. E. Heath, operator of one of the most modern dairies in this section of the state, is adding another up-to-date dairy barn to his cluster of buildings. The new building, completely equipped throughout with latest type drainage and stalls, will be well under construction next week.

"MIGHTY BARNUM" ONE OF WALLACE BEERY'S GREATEST

Wallace Beery, ever popular, has scored another screen triumph in "The Mighty Barnum," starting a three-day run at the Hayward Theater tonight. "Maybe It's Love," with Gloria Stuart and Ross Alexander is on the same program.

"Devil Dogs of the Air," starring James Cagney and Pat O'Brien comes Sunday, to continue for four days. "Buried Loot," another of Metro's famous "Crime Doesn't Pay" series, is the added attraction.

"Broadway Bill," a racing story that will thrill you, begins on Thursday, April 4. Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy are the players. "La Cucaracha," sensational musical comedy, rounds out the program.

Irvington Pastor To Remember Birthdays

Members of the Irvington Community church will hear an interesting service and address Sunday, when the Rev. J. E. Moore will dedicate the day to five Irvington people, whose birthdays fall on March 31, or in the week following.

The subject of the sermon will be: "The Christian Significance of a Birthday." Those who will be honored are: Mrs. Lutz, Dr. J. H. Durham, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Moore. The pastor has asked that any others, celebrating their birthdays within the week, inform him and be included in the remembrance.

All are invited.

DECOTO TROOP HAS COURT OF HONOR LAST FRIDAY

Planned too early to wait until the district court of honor on April 4, a court was held for the Decoto Boy Scout troop last Friday night at the Decoto Grammar school. Roland Bendel was judge of the court. Other members of the scout committee: William Hurst, chairman, and Herbert Harrold.

Advancements made: Albert Silva to second class; Eugene Luna, Norman Luna, Lester Mederos and Edward Nevis to first class.

Merit badges were awarded to the following:

Norman Luna, woodwork, swimming and firemanship; Lester Mederos, woodwork, firemanship; Edward Nevis, woodwork, firemanship.

Service stars awarded: One-year stars to Albert Silva, John Ferrante, Donald Coleman and Dick Young. Eugene Luna, Lester Mederos and Edward Nevis were given three-year stars. Norman Luna received a two-year award and Robert Whipple a five-year one.

Following the awards to the scouts, each boy who had received a pin presented his mother with a miniature pin corresponding to his own rank.

After a few songs, led by Eugene Luna, Scoutmaster Peter Decoto spoke a few words to the assemblage.

Decoto Team Slowly Rounding To Form

Decoto's new baseball team, sponsored by the Decoto Junior Chamber of Commerce, and managed by J. C. Vargas, is slowly working its way toward perfection in a series of practice games prior to the opening game of the new league play.

Last Sunday, the powerful Alvarado Merchants met the new Decoto nine on the Decoto field, and won by a comfortable margin. Manager Vargas, of Decoto, shifted his men about in search of the best combination. He stated that more infield practice was necessary.

The following men played: B. Santiago, 3b; J. Peppone, ss; E. Thomas, 2b; L. De Valle, p; K. Santiago, lf; F. Saramento, 1b; J. Gomes, cf; J. Slone, c; J. Roderick, rf.

Rebekahs To Initiate Three Here On Apr. 5

The initiation of three candidates into the Niles Rebekah lodge will take the interest of members on Friday evening, April 5. The ceremony will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall, beginning at 8:00 p. m.

Jack Carren, of Hayward, experienced drill-master, will be asked to conduct the initiatory team, members said.

MORE ON SEASON BEST

Last year, Gordon B. Liang, agricultural commissioner, stated that the price should hold up if growers and packers send good quality product to the markets. Shipments to the east will be getting under way this week. Growers stated that they expected no labor troubles this season, all pickers seemingly satisfied with the prevailing wage of 20 cents per hamper.

Apricot growers were this week going through their orchards to check up on damage done by the untimely rains. Many state that the damage is slight, while others insist that tonnage will be lessened. W. B. Kirk, agricultural inspector, said that he expects many green 'cots to drop but that it was too early to make an estimate of the yield. He called attention to the unusually long blossoming period in the orchards this year.

Indications of a clean market, with little or no holdover, are seen in the activities of several large canneries, which have men in the field already attempting to sign growers on open contracts.

Cattlemen are together in the opinion that feed cover on the local ranges will be the best in years.

FEDERAL PAYROLL WON'T "TAKE CARE" OF OFFICIALS' KIN

ONE PAYROLL on which near kin of existing jobholders will have difficulty in placing their names, will be that of the federal government, following a statement made by President Franklin D. Roosevelt recently that such applicants will be frowned upon.

The president made the statement at a press conference on March 14, in enunciating a general policy, followed by the Emergency Council for some time, to engage as far as possible only new workers whose families are not represented on government employee rolls.

'Public sentiment, sharpened by lean years and a growing sense of social responsibility, is rapidly crystallizing against "loading" public payrolls with officials' kin.

Holly Sugar Plant Gets New Machinery

The Holly Sugar Corporation plant at Alvarado, the oldest in the United States, is installing several units of new machinery and equipment, including a new boiler costing $150,000. Regular workers, employed during the annual harvests, are making the installations.

Seventy-five per cent of this year's planting of beets has been set out, according to W. H. Ziegler, plant superintendent, who expects a good yield this year, due to heavy rains.

MOTORISTS TOLD OF DRIVE THROUGH NILES CANYON

A trip through Niles Canyon is a delight at this time of year, combining blossoming orchards, a babbling stream, poppy-strewn fields and good roads, according to L. L. Norris, touring director of the National Automobile Club.

Pavement extends to Niles, thence good oiled road through the canyon.

There are many picnicking places on the banks of the stream where one may spend the day. For a small fee there are the refinements—tables, benches, and a place to swim. If one wishes privacy, there are many secluded nooks.

For the return trip, proceed to Sunol, cross the railroad tracks and continue northerly over good oiled road, which leads past Castlewood Country Club, and through a section devoted to vineyards, orchards and the raising of thoroughbred cattle.

The road winds along the base of foothills, where just enough elevation to give a splendid view of the Livermore Valley, with the Livermore hills towering in the background. After reaching Dublin, cross the highway and continue northerly through the fertile San Ramon Valley, San Ramon, Danville and Walnut Creek.

DECOTO CHAMBER TO ERECT SIGNPOSTS ON ALL ROADS

A decision to place signs at the intersections of all roads in the Decoto fire district was reached by the Decoto Chamber of Commerce when it met last Wednesday night.

Roland Bendel, secretary of the organization, stated that every road and avenue will be named and signed. Signs will be installed on existing poles, where possible, and standards erected for the remainder.

Bendel said that purpose of the installation is to make it easier to locate homes and business houses in Decoto, and to insure more efficient service of the firemen in answering alarms.

The Decoto group also discussed stage rates.

Townsend Club Will Hear Oakland Speaker

The Washington Township Townsend Club, rapidly growing in membership, will meet again Monday night at the Washington Union High school, to hear an address by a Mr. Carr, of Oakland, who will be prepared to answer questions concerning the revolving pension plan.

Members of the club stated their eagerness to have as many attend as would care to clear up their idea of the plan. They said that it was generally misunderstood, with numerous fantastic and untrue statements being made concerning it.

The time for the meeting will be 8:00 o'clock.

Truck owners
know economy
THAT'S WHY THEY BUY CHEVROLET
TRUCKS

MEN who study haulage costs know that Chevrolet trucks are as outstanding in economy and durability as they are in price. Chevrolet trucks handle tough hauling jobs day after day at small operating cost, because they are built to Chevrolet's own high standards of quality in every part. The powerful six-cylinder valve-in-head engines are truck motors, especially designed to give sustained pulling power. Features that assure stamina and long life are evident in every detail of the precision-engineered chassis. Chevrolet trucks offer maximum capacity, economy and quality—because Chevrolet is the world's largest builder of trucks.

Tanning Cow Hides

Many farmers will butcher a beef or two this winter and be confronted with the prospect of practically giving away the hide. Rather than sell cow or calf hides for a meager price, notes a writer in the Missouri Farmer, they should be used on the farm. It is not necessary to tan a hide to make it into a suitable rug, or a mat for the floor of one's automobile. Try salting down a hide, rolling it up with the salt inside for a time, or until the hide has taken enough salt to "keep" it, then roll it out and clean it and tack up to dry. When dried, cut it into a square shape for a rug, or in suitable shapes for other purposes such as a floor mat for the car. Calf hides make splendid rugs for bathroom, etc. Rugs cured up in this way will be stiff, but they make up for this in beauty.

Fighting Lice on Horses

The best way to treat horses infested with lice is to apply equal parts of ground sabadilla seed and flowers of sulphur, using two or three handfuls per horse. Rub the mixture into the hair along the back from the tail to the withers and around the neck. Apply some between the forelegs and hindlegs, especially if the lice are bad. Two or three applications during the winter months should control the infestation.—A. L. Harvey, University Farm, St. Paul.

Mrs. Bonner and Mrs. Day attended the Parent-Teachers' council meeting at Livermore on Thursday.

COMMON CAUSE OF BALDNESS

One of the chief causes of premature grayness, falling hair and ultimate baldness is lack of circulation in the scalp. To overcome this and bring an abundant supply of blood to nourish the hair roots, massage scalp at night with Japanese Oil, the antiseptic counter-irritant. Thousands of men and women report amazing results in stopping falling hair, growing new hair on bald areas and in eliminating dandruff and itching scalp. Japanese Oil costs but 50c at any drug-gist. United States Keeps 3c Postage Indefinitely

Washington.—The 3-cent postage rate is here to stay indefinitely. An experimental measure, it was to have been supplanted by the old 2-cent rate if it failed to bring increased postal revenues sorely needed. However, Postmaster General Farley said:

"The 3-cent rate should be retained. If it is not, our postal revenues will be decreased approximately $75,000,000 a year." The department succeeded in wiping out a deficit last year for the first time in fifty years.

Foundry Workers Back On Jobs After Lay-Off

Two hundred stove mounters and metal workers went back to work at the Graham stove plant at Newark early last week after a week off duty when called out in an east bay walk-out by their union.

Demanding shorter hours and a raise in pay, the local workmen returned to their jobs when a settlement was made with their employer.

Production was at full speed this week, with shipments of new stoves moving out steadily.

PADRES END NILES WINNING STREAK HERE SUNDAY

The Mission San Jose baseball team, winners of the first half of the Santa Clara Valley Inter-City League, and leaders in the second half, played alright ball here Sunday to end the Niles C of C's winning streak. The score was 3 to 2.

Scoring their three runs in the first two innings, the Padres were held to three scattered hits for the rest of the game. The first Mission run crossed in the first frame when Lanohi scored on Fontes' double. In the second inning, Fields and Manfredi scored when Agular walked and Lanohi doubled.

Niles came into scoring form in the third inning, when Ferrera scored on Raso's single. Niles added its second run in the fifth when Ferrera came in on Raso's double.

Ray Duarte, pitching for Niles, was nipped for five hits in the first two innings. He steadied down in the third. Raso and Ferrera were the best of the Niles hitters with two for four apiece. For the Padres, Lanohi and Manfredi each batted 500.

NILES GUILD HEARS CHURCH OFFICER AT TEA HERE

Mrs. Mary D. White, of New York, associate secretary of the American Missionary Association and Church Extension Board, was the main speaker yesterday afternoon, when the ladies of the Congregational church were hostesses at a tea given in the church halls. Mrs. Herman Swartz, of the Berkeley Theological Seminary, accompanied Mrs. White to Niles.

The local guild, planning the afternoon as a social time, with a message of interest to all Washington township women, sent out invitations to guilds at Alvarado, Irvington, Newark and Centerville. Committees named by Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth for the afternoon were: Mrs. C. E. Martenstein, Mrs. O. E. Walpert, Mrs. E. C. Grau, Mrs. W. E. Olson and Mrs. A. J. Rathbone, on the reception group, and Mrs. Charles Shinn, Mrs. C. W. Henry and Mrs. A. A. Hatch on the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Wesley Dexter Gordon, wife of the pastor here, sang a number of songs as part of the musical entertainment.

of the court of honor committee, was adopted, and the first district court will be held at the I.O.O.F. Hall, in Irvington, on Thursday evening, April 4.

District courts of honor will be held on the first Thursday of each month thereafter, during the school year. Special effort will be made to get the parents out to these affairs.

Lewis also brought up the proposal to have regular district scout functions, in which all troops will participate. The first will be a district jamboree, to be held at the Washington Union High school field on Saturday afternoon, April 27. Lewis, assisted by Harold Benner, will outline the events to the scoutmasters, who will prepare their troops.

Pleased with the increase in community interest, the committee voted to have regular meetings, on the second Wednesday of each month.

Those who attended the first meeting were: Allen G. Norris, Dr. G.S. Holeman, Lorin Merriott, Harold Benner, Albert Lewis, Harvey Braun, Paul Donovan, Frank Nunes, George Colt, Clarence Crane, Robert Wright, R.L. Pond, Ernest Frick, Tony Dutra, Roland Bendel and Peter Decoto.

Scientists Find Fast Way to Relieve a Cold

Ache and Discomfort Eased Almost Instantly Now

1. Take 2 BAYER Aspirin Tablets. Make sure you get the BAYER Tablets you ask for.

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

3. If throat is sore, crush and stir 2 BAYER Aspirin Tablets in a third of a glass of water. Gargle twice. This eases throat soreness almost instantly.

NOTE "DIRECTIONS PICTURES"

The simple method pictured here is the way many doctors now treat colds and the aches and pains colds bring with them!

It is recognized as a safe, sure, QUICK way. For it will relieve an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, be sure that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve (disintegrate) almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets disintegrate with speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness.

BAYER Aspirin prices have been decisively reduced on all sizes, so there's no point now in accepting other than the real Bayer article you want.
